Introduction to this Document
Writing your own Accessibility Standards for Customer Service Policy Statement

THIS DOCUMENT IS AVAILABLE FOR DOWNLOAD ON THE TORONTO CONFERENCE WEBSITE.
www.torontoconference.ca

PLEASE NOTE:

This document is not legal advice and should be read together with the official language of the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service, Ontario Regulation 429/07 (“the standard”) and the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005. If there is any conflict between this document, the standard, and the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, the standard and the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, are the final authorities. This document is current as of October 2010.

The document was developed using material from:

Accessibility Directorate of Ontario, Ministry of Community and Social Services

- The need for a policy statement for Accessibility Standards for Customer Service is the first standard to come into effect from the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005. The deadline for implementing these standards for churches is January 1, 2012. This document will assist you in creating a policy statement for your congregation. We are entitling the policy “Welcoming Congregations”, recognizing this task as one more way we can grow in our practices of being a welcoming church with a particular focus this time on the needs of persons with disabilities. Appendix A is a generic policy statement from which you can develop your own statement for your congregation.
- NOTE: THIS POLICY ADDRESSES CUSTOMER STANDARDS ONLY – THE ONLY COMPONENT NEEDING IMPLEMENTATION AT THIS TIME (Deadline of January 1, 2012)

What you need to do:

- Identify your existing policies, practices and procedures.
- Identify the gaps that exist.
- Develop your new policies, procedures and practices that reflect the requirements in the standards.

This statement is written based on a church having the standards in place and articulating the policy relating to living out that standard.

As you create your own policy statement, you will begin to identify where gaps exist between the required standards and actual components already in place. Your statement needs to reflect how your Accessibility Liaison/Committee is addressing gaps within the particular standard

You will note that in each section of the document there are places where you need to replace the generic statement with your own information. These words are in italics throughout the document.

Accessibility for Ontarians With Disabilities Act, 2005

The Big Picture

On June 13, 2005, the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 came into being. The former Disabilities Act 2001 is still in effect, awaiting repeal. The Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 calls on the business community, public sector, not-for-profit sector, and people with disabilities or their representatives to develop, implement and enforce mandatory accessibility standards.

Accessibility standards are the rules that businesses and organizations in Ontario will have to follow to identify, remove and prevent barriers to accessibility. The first standard to come into effect is the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service. By January 1, 2012, all sectors will be required to have implemented the Customer Service standards.

Other standards are also being developed in the areas of:

- built environment (buildings and other structures)
- employment
- information and communications
- transportation.

These standards were available for public review in 2009 and are now undergoing revisions before being sent for approval and being passed into law. The goal is for Ontario to be totally accessible by the year 2025.

Customer Service

Already in place, the standard states what businesses and other organizations in Ontario must do to provide their goods and services in ways that are accessible to people with disabilities.

The legal requirements of the accessibility standards for customer service are set out in two Ontario Regulations

- Ontario Regulation 429/07 which states the requirements of the customer service standard
- Ontario Regulation 430/07 which exempts organizations that have fewer than 20 employees (other than designated public sector organizations) from certain documentation requirements of the standard.

Built Environment

The goal of the proposed standard is to break down barriers in buildings and other structures for people with disabilities by proposing requirements in areas such as:

- entrances, doorways and ramps
- parking spaces
- signs and displays
- recreation, such as parks and trails.

Employment

The goal of the proposed standard is to help employers create equal employment opportunities for people with disabilities.

The proposed standard:

- sets out specific requirements for the recruitment, retention and accommodation of people with disabilities, and
- applies to all organizations in Ontario with at least one employee.

Information and Communications

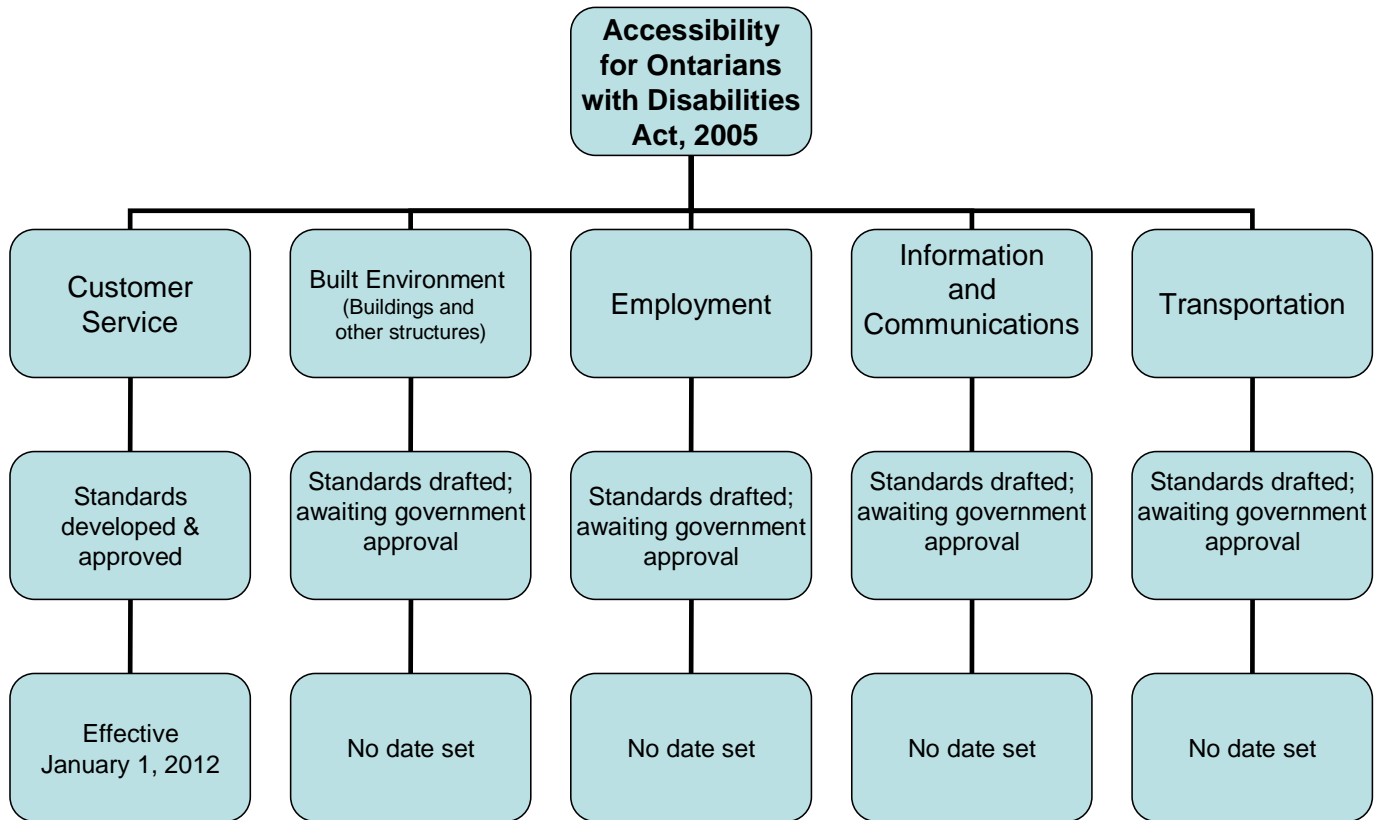

The proposed standard outlines how businesses and organizations may be required to create, provide and receive information and communications in ways that are accessible for people with disabilities.

Transportation

This standard is the only one that is sector specific, that is, it relates specifically to modes of transportation that come under the jurisdiction of provincial and municipal governments.

Components of the Accessibility Act

This is the only component
Needing addressing right now.

Current as of October 2010.

POLICIES, PRACTICES AND PROCEDURES

Set a policy on allowing participants to use their own assistive devices to access your programs, goods and services and about any other measures you offer to enable them to access your programs, goods and services.

- Your policy should specify that in your place of worship:

SERVICE ANIMALS

Let participants with disabilities bring their service animal onto any part of your premises open to the public or third parties, except where the animal is otherwise excluded by law.

If service animals are excluded by another law, use other measures to provide services to applicable participants

- Develop policies on the inclusion of participants accompanied by animals into your programs and services.
- Carefully consider the requirements of the legislation in formulating these policies.
- Educate the congregation about the different types and functions of service animals.
- Provide opportunities for participants to introduce/talk about their service animal to the congregation.

SUPPORT PERSONS

Let participants with disabilities bring their support person with them when accessing programs, goods or services on your premises.

- Develop policies on the inclusion of participants accompanied by support persons into your programs and services.
- Make efforts to ensure support persons are welcome.
- Encourage participation of support persons wherever possible.
- Educate the congregation about the different types and functions of support persons.
- Offer an informal lesson to orient support persons with practices and rituals in your place of worship.
- Work with support persons, in relevant situations, to customize behavioural plans for the successful integration of their support recipients into sanctuary ritual practices.
- Announce when programs, goods or services, due to health and safety concerns, might require some participants to be accompanied by a support person.

Where admission fees are charged, provide notice ahead of time on what admission, if any, would be charged for a support person of a participant.

- Develop a policy regarding admission fees for support persons.
- Specify the exact fee that participants must pay for accompanying support person when making announcements about fees for applicable programs, goods and services.

TEMPORARY DISRUPTIONS OF SERVICE

Provide notice when facilities or services that participants with disabilities usually use to access your programs, goods or services are temporarily unavailable.

- When notifying participants of temporary disruptions of facilities or services, specify the reason for the disruption, its anticipated duration, and a description of alternative facilities or services available.
- Ask participants affected by the temporary disruption for suggestions on potential alternative accommodations.
- Apologize for the unfortunate circumstances.
- Decide how and where to provide the notice of temporary disruption. If possible, announce disruptions in different ways (e.g., sign posted, website, announcement, outgoing voicemail, etc.)
- Create a database of congregants who require facilities or services for accessibility, so that in the event of a disruption they can be notified.
- The Accessibility Liaison/Committee should consider:
 - Making personal phone calls to participants likely to be affected by the temporary disruption;
 - Sending e-mails to participants likely to be affected by the disruption;
 - Including a large-print notice in the e-version of your weekly bulletin;
 - Posting a large-print notification on the home page of your website.

TRAINING

Provide training on how to serve participants with disabilities for: staff, volunteers, contractors, those involved in developing your policies, practices and procedures, and anyone else who interacts with participants on your behalf.

- Designate the Accessibility Liason/Committee to:
 - Determine which staff and volunteers must be trained under the legislation – refer to section eight of the Compliance Manual (www.accesson.ca/compliance - click on Compliance Toolkit and scroll down to Compliance Manual);
 - Coordinate training in a format that is appropriate to the staff and volunteers being trained and that meets legislated requirements outlined in the Compliance Manual;
 - Create a policy outlining your commitment to training all applicable staff and volunteers. (For places of worship with 20 or more employees, include a summary of the contents of the training and details of when the training will be provided).
- For Ushers, Greeters and Other Front-Line Volunteers/Staff
 - Designate an accessibility trainer or an Accessibility Committee member who knows the legislation to lead an interactive training session.
 - Consider collaborating with other places of worship;
 - Provide user-friendly reference documents for trainees.
 - Alternatively, require front-line volunteers to complete Serve-Ability, a training e-module available at www.mcass.gov.on.ca/mcass/serve-ability/splash.html.
- For Administrative Staff and Lay Leaders
 - Designate an accessibility trainer or an Accessibility Committee member who knows the legislation to deliver an orientation session on accessibility to the administrative staff and lay leaders (and new members as required).
 - Alternatively, require administrative staff and lay leaders to complete the “policy makers” section of the Serve-Ability e-module available at: www.mcass.gov.on.ca/mcass/serve-ability/splash.html
- For Faith Leaders/Ministry Personnel
 - Include Faith Leaders/Ministry Personnel at the lay leaders’ accessibility orientation meeting.
 - Alternatively, require all Faith Leaders/Ministry Personnel to complete both the general and “policy makers” sections of the Serve-Ability e-module available at: www.mcass.gov.on.ca/mcass/serve-ability/splash.html

FEEDBACK

Establish a process for receiving feedback on how you provide service to participants with disabilities and how you will respond to feedback and take action on any complaints. Make information about your feedback process readily available to your congregation and the public.

- Determine how your place of worship will receive feedback on accessibility from participants (sample forms pages 23-25)
Consider the following:
 - Have a large-print and noticeable link on the home page of your website directing congregants to a section where they can submit feedback;
 - Place a suggestion drop box labeled “accessibility feedback” that is visible, accessible, and regularly monitored in the main foyer or other easy-to-access location;
 - Send out an annual on-line survey about your place of worship’s accessibility via the congregation’s e-mail distribution list, or by mail;
 - Notify the congregation in weekly/monthly bulletins of a phone number or e-mail address where participants can provide feedback directly to the Accessibility Liason/Committee;
 - Include a section on membership forms for feedback on accessibility.

- The Accessibility Liaison/Committee should:
 - Conduct an annual “needs and strengths” accessibility assessment based on information from various feedback channels;
 - Take reasonable steps to address solutions to complaints/negative feedback from congregants;
 - Create a policy outlining the procedures for responding to feedback from congregants;
 - Involve the person who has voiced a complaint or concern in considering a solution;
 - Prepare a document outlining the entire feedback process including information on:
 - Where, and in what ways, participants can provide feedback;
 - What information participants should include in their complaint;
 - Who is responsible for receiving feedback;
 - What actions will be taken when a complaint is received;
 - Whether or not participants who submit feedback can expect an answer;
 - The period of time expected for a response;
 - Post the document on your place of worship’s website, distribute hard copies and e-mail electronic copies.

DOCUMENTATION

- Documentation requirements deal with the requirement in the standard for places of worship with 20 or more employees to prepare documentation in relation to service animals, service disruptions, training and other issues.

Refer to Section 10 of The Compliance Manual for documentation requirements (available at www.accesson.ca/compliance - click on compliance toolkit and scroll down to the manual)

Re: Developing Congregational Guides to Accessibility

OVERVIEW

WHEN?

The deadline for compliance with this standard for churches is January 1, 2012.

Why

The purpose of the accessibility standards is to move organizations (including churches) in Ontario forward on accessibility.

WHAT

The customer service standard is the first standard developed under this "Act" (AODA). Each church will be required to address how it will meet each of 11 requirements. These 11 requirements are summarized on the reverse side of this flyer.

HOW

Toronto Conference is committed to creating a template for congregational use in developing their own "Guide to Accessibility" by Fall 2010. Contact person:

What does "Customer Service" refer to in a church context?

(This information was in a General Council e-mail document in December 2009)

This term is understood as our interaction with those who come through our doors – parishioners, community ministry participants, campers, students, seniors, and so on.

It may also include how we interact with those who are seeking religious services – weddings, funerals, baptisms.

Training Video

In preparation, you may want to set aside 45 minutes to watch the training video provided by the Ontario Government. It is available at: www.mcass.gov.on.ca/mcass/serve-ability/splash.html.

Toronto, Hamilton and London Conferences are working together to prepare a template for use in local congregations as well as resources for training volunteers.

What Are The Requirements?

A full copy of the Guide to Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 (AODA) can be downloaded from <http://www.mcass.gov.on.ca/en/mcass/programs/accessibility/ComplyingStandards/toolsToHelpYouComply.aspx>.
